

The Tall Cop: Jermaine Galloway

Standing at 6'9", Jermaine Galloway can look intimidating. But in fact, he's a devoted, passionate man who cares about America's (and beyond) youth and communities. That passion transformed into his life's work, Tall Cop Says Stop™, where he educates on substance abuse prevention within communities and schools. After playing Division I basketball, and receiving his BA from the University of San Francisco, Jermaine devotes most of his time educating professionals and communities on drug & alcohol prevention and enforcement. To date, he has trained more than 650,000 people nationwide and internationally. He has also conducted more than 8,400 community scans at a variety of locations, including: retail stores, festivals, housing areas, schools and universities. Now a Texan by choice, Officer Galloway previously worked in Idaho law enforcement for over 18 years. His various assignments have included: alcohol compliance and enforcement, crime scene investigation, DUI task force, officer mentoring, and field training officer. Jermaine Galloway is an Idaho POST certified instructor in Alcohol Beverage Laws and Drug Identification. He has trained fellow officers, judges, educators, community leaders and many others in issues relating to drug and alcohol abuse. He has received prestigious honors such as: National Law Enforcement Partner of the Year award from Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (2009), National Mickey Sadoff Underage Drinking Award from Mothers Against Drunk Driving (2010), National Liquor Law Enforcement Association's (NLLEA) innovative project award (2014), National and international award for American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators (2015), National Enrique Camarena Drug Awareness Award from the National Elks Drug Awareness program (2017), Law Enforcement Partner Award from the New York State STOP-DWI Foundation (2018). At home, Jermaine is a devoted husband and father to four wonderful children. He is very involved in family life, making sure to be present at his kiddos school functions, their baseball & cheer games, and weekly date nights with his bride.
