

Marvin Colson II

Marvin Colson II is one of the prominent providers of executive protection in the United States. His firm, M.L. Colson & Associates, LLC has provided Executive Protection risk assessments, consultation, operations and training around the United States since 2017. The firm specializes in developing detailed protection plans for the top executives of companies, as well as for private families. In addition the firm provides a wide range of customized executive protection training, based on client needs.

Mr. Colson is a senior instructor with R.L. Oatman & Associates, with the 3 & 7 Day Executive Protection program and has been teaching the program across the United States since 2011.

Mr. Colson is a graduate of the R.L. Oatman & Associates 2- & 7-Day Executive Protection Training Program, (Class # 31, October 2010) and the ASIS International Executive Protection Certification Course. In October 2019 Mr. Colson was also certified in Executive Protection, through IADLEST (Course 19212-1909).

Mr. Colson is currently still a full time Law Enforcement professional with over 24 years of service with Baltimore City Police Department. He is currently assigned to the Mayor Executive/Dignitary Protection Unit. He is a senior Detective and Team Leader in this elite unit, who is responsible on a daily bases of safeguarding the Mayor of Baltimore City. Mr. Colson has been an instructor with the Maryland Police Training Committee (MPTC) since 2005. He's been teaching Executive Protection Refresher Classes for the Baltimore City Police Department, Mayor, Police Chief & States Attorney Executive/Dignitary Protection Unit since 2016 and is currently the Executive Protection field training officer.

For the past 24 years as a member of the Baltimore City Police Department. Mr. Colson has served in many different units and different capacities such as uniform patrol, bicycle unit, street crimes unit, narcotics unit, information and technology unit, criminal intelligence unit, City Hall and Police HQ physical security unit, tactical K-9 narcotics and explosive training coordinator and K-9 handler.

Mr. Colson has participated in programs such as officer's guidance to young people taking the wrong path and mentoring youths at many programs throughout Baltimore, Maryland and the United States. Mr. Colson has received several unit citations over the years, including a Life Saving Award and the Bronze Star Award.