

Christopher Scott

Christopher has over 20 years as a criminal justice practitioner consisting of law enforcement, detention, administration, general instructor, and soon to be a Training Academy Director for the Halifax Community College in Eastern North Carolina. Christopher has been an instructor since August 2015, teaching criminal justice curriculum, pre-service law enforcement and detention courses to associate degree seeking and law enforcement and detention cadets. During Christopher's tenure at NC Sheriffs' Education and Training Standards Division, he created and designed the NC Justice Officer certification training course. This course is designed for Sheriff's Office and Telecommunication personnel on the Justice Officer Certification process to have more sworn and certified law enforcement officers protecting our communities.
